

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

On 15th of August every year,
Everyone celebrates freedom.
In the remembrance of every martyr,
And everything the brave people have done.

From Gandhi Ji and Bhagat Singh,
To Subhash Chandra Bose.
Today we all stand tall,
And salute to the sacrifices of them all.

All three colours of the flag,
Orange, white and green.
Always keeping our heads high,
We forever will try.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

They gave their lives,
So we could see the rising sun.
They sacrificed,
So we wouldn't have to run.

Run from a bullet ,
Of their killing machine.
Ones they called "Gun,"
Ones that killed our teens.

They said "Go near the walls,
And you'll hear the screams ,
Their pleading and calls ,
Of mercy and peace ".

But through all this,
Their hearts were brave,
"We'll die for our family,
Their future we need to save".

So today I'm proud of them,
And celebrate this freedom earned by them.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

The day we got independence,
It was spirit which was commenced.
The day when we became free,
The independent Bharat is all we could see.

Nothing left for us to survive ,
Those days , we tried saving lives,
But they didn't know , we would never quit.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

On the day of Freedom,
Many freedom fighters stood with pride,
The time when every aspect of Bharat changed,
From morning till night.

Fighters like Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose,
Gave their lives for India,
Giving us the knowledge to always say,
India is my country and my pride.

Independence Day is a time,
To make our souls pride,
For those who contributed,
To make our country high.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

When the Britishers came to India to rule,
The way they treated us was too cruel.

We got freedom by paying a cost,
In a battle for justice so many lives were lost.

All people who gave their lives for freedom,
To save this ancient kingdom.

Freedom comes with a responsibilities,
To respect that , we need ability.

In the end I'd like to say ,
Let's respect our freedom every day.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

From kings and queens,
TO elders and teens,
We had the courage that was openly seen,
Our Bharat grew like a plant from a bean.

This laughter and freedom,
Should be valued as if it is a kingdom,
And only we get to celebrate it,
Remembering all their sacrifices bit by bit.

We should celebrate this prize,
And salute to those cries,
Because it wasn't given,
It was earned and taken.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

Celebrating freedom,
With pride ,
As we get back our kingdom,
let's remember those who tried.

Celebrating freedom,
With humility,
Just like those with wisdom,
Also took care of humility.

Celebrating freedom,
With sacrifice,
We will always remember them,
Even before they die.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

Celebrating freedom,
A day to celebrate,
To be away from British Rulers,
Salute to all before it's too late.

Celebrating freedom,
Tribute to all those who dies,
From the ones who smiled,
And the ones who cried.

Celebrating freedom,
The reward of dedication,
No injustice now,
It's the time for celebration.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

We will fight for freedom,
And protect our kingdom,
We will do everything it takes,
To make sure nothing is in a bad state.

I love my country,
I will do everything to help it,
It is my duty,
To serve my country with pride and courtesy.

We will fight till the end,
Just as those before us did,
I am proud to be an Indian,
And I will always love my country from North to South.

JAI HIND! JAI BHARAT!

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

India is a country of freedom,
And a very great kingdom,
Many bravehearts fought for it,
And we don't even give a thought about it.

Today let us salute the soldiers,
Who protect our motherland,
We took freedom from the British,
Who tortured and enslaved us.

Let us celebrate this not just as a day,
But as a teaching,
At last I would like to say,
FREEDOM IS THE ONLY WAY!

JAI HIND! JAI BHARAT!

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

India is free our land is bright,
Brave people fought to win this right,
They faced the chains, they faced the pain,
So freedom's sun would always reign.

Our flag of pride waves in the sky,
It tells us all to reach up high,
We thank the heroes, strong and true,
They gave us freedom fresh and new.

Now we must keep our country strong,
And walk the path of right not wrong,
India is free for you and me ,
A land of love and liberty.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

At dawn she woke with colours bright,
India rose in morning light,
The British were gone, the skies were clear,
Her voice of hope rang far and near.

Each drop of blood, each silent tear,
Brought us to the freedom we hold dear,
The Tricolour tells a shining tale,
Of courage that will never fail.

Now every heart must guard this flame,
With love, for land and honoured name,
India's spirit bold and free,
Will shine for all eternity.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

Freedom shines like morning light,
Chasing away the darkest night,
It's the smile , the song the cheer,
A gift we hold forever dear.

So let us guard it strong and true,
For me, for them, for all, for you,
Together we march , with hearts of all,
Standing without fear strong and true,

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

In Saffron, White and Green we fly,
Our colours bright against the sky,
A nation born, a spirit freed,
By valiant hearts and noble deed.

The chains are broken, the songs have taken flight,
From darkness to a glorious light,
We honour souls who paid the price,
To give our land a new sunrise.

We dance and cheer, let freedom ring,
A joyful song our voices sing,
For every citizen young and old,
A future bright and a story told.

JAI HIND! JAI BHARAT!

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

Our bhoomi was stained red with blood,
I salute to our heroes who lay dead.

With all the bullets that dangerously flew,
Our hunger for freedom grew and grew.

Let the souls of our ancestors rest in peace,
As I pray for their comfort and ease.

This poem is for the flag I salute,
To which I wholeheartedly pay tribute.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

Our freedom was never given,
It was taken with pride and valour.
By our soldiers lives sacrificed,
We live in a world of happiness.

Today we stand like proud Indians,
We should celebrate this honour.
The lives of so many given,
Their sacrifice to be saluted.

They fought fearlessly,
Not to see our future destroyed.
To seek a peaceful and joyful future,
For all the generations to come.

They fought to pass on a legacy,
A legacy of peace.
And to that we bow,
And salute with all our heartfelt souls.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

We deserve this day,
For all the dead bodies that lay,
They aimed to destroy our roots ,
And took with them all their loot.

They came as traders,
But indeed were invaders,
They wanted Indians who were British in taste,
But that was a decision made in haste.

But today we stand tall and proud,
And celebrate our freedom,
All the poisonous seeds that were sown ,
Didn't save the british from being overthrown.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

Celebrating freedom,
Means more to me,
Than just a kingdom
For us to see.

We must respect and honour,
The lines of all soldiers, clad in armour
Who died fighting for our future
In efforts to make it smoother

For some people it may be just a day
But for me it's the time to pray
I thank the ones who fought for me
Even today with all my glee

To contribute to the earth's solution.
In bringing humanity into line,
With universal love sublime.

Many years of freedom's light,
Yet darkness lingers, fierce and tight,
Where women walk with fear and fright,
Their voices lost in endless night.

Independence Day, a time to cheer,
But let us see the truth we bear,
For Freedom's fight is far from near,
Until all women breathe free air.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

In the nineteenth century, a lively August day,
Gandhi sent vicious Britishers away.
Happiness spread like a bolt of lighting,
Amidst the dark clouds a silver lining.

Soldiers marched with their heads held high,
In the reverence for those who didn't just die.
On the Red fort, the President's respectful salute,
In every society to the tricolour we must tribute.

Remember all the cartridges of bullets were fired on,
We snatched Independence at the crack of dawn.
Celebrating independence means remembering every life laid,
Uniting up our country for decades and decades.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

The heartbeat of the nation,
The very final station.
The seeds that were sown,
Grew up all alone.
To be at the peaceful kingdom,
Is what we call freedom.

The blood in the soil,
Disappears without turmoil.
All the wars of the past,
Die in the trenches at last.
All the bullets that flew,
Turn into dreams that came true.

The roots of our history,
Drenched with misery.
The ground stained red,
Our culture laid dead.
With pride and wisdom,
A tribute to their our freedom.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

We enjoy this freedom in many ways,
Joy of which in our heart stays.
We march and salute to this nation,
Independence of which is the greatest celebration.

We hoist our national flag high,
It is a tribute to the soldiers who dies.
Shouting Jai Hind out loud,
Of this country we all are really proud.

We should celebrate freedom every day,
We respect all the soldiers and pray.
Celebrating freedom with oneness and unity,
This is our rightful duty.

CELEBRATING FREEDOM

The chains of old now broken fall,
A whispered plea becomes a call.
From fear's dark hold, we rise and cheer,
For freedom's dawn, so bright and clear.

Our banner high, a colourful decree,
From mountains grand to shining sea.
A hundred souls, a single voice,
In unity, our hearts rejoice.

We march with pride, our steps renewed,
By heroes sacrifices we are spurred.
Their blood and will, a legacy they gave,
To build a future strong and brave.

So let us hold this treasure so dear,
And wash every doubt and fear.
For freedom's light, a beacon true,
A promise for me and for you.
