

TWEENS AND TEENS

Tweens and Teens are different identities:

At nine and ten we're just kids,

At eleven and twelve, we play well.

At thirteen and fourteen we study hard,

At fifteen and sixteen we get more responsibilities

When we're seventeen and eighteen, we almost became adults.

A tween's life is much easier than a teen's,

Be proud you're not a teen,

'cause you don't have to struggle just like me!

Be proud you're just a tween, live your life freely like everybody else wants you to be!

An unforgettable phase,
The most enjoyable age!

The phase where I make more friends
And I never let the friendship end.

Cousins and relatives are fun to be with
They shower more love and care.

'tis almost the close of my tween phase now
I look forward to being a teen!

As a teen,
I want to prepare
For the future that is near,
But I'm scared of the truth
As mine is unclear.

I lie here in bed
As my worries eat me away
My heart yearns for the good old days.

Will there be something to call mine?
Will my heart only yearn for the past?
Or will my mind yearn for the future?
Thoughts come rushing into my head
As I stare into nothingness.

Finally, I say,
Goodbye to the past,
And cheers to the future!

TWEENS AND TEENS

The supreme phase of life has appeared:
Mood swings, friendships, dreams and what not!
Where have all those sweet tween years disappeared?
We're growing older, day by day.

Grin, and you're on the perfect pathway
Lost between Jupiter and Apollo.
Dreams are my constant guideline
Anything can happen in those vast dreams of mine.

Relationships enter the tween-teen lives for the very first time
The path of ageing, is a long hard climb.
With great power comes great responsibility
I know, I've the ability.

But I know there's more out there
Waiting for me.
For, my dreams come in a complete, different variety!

Let's enjoy this phase,
It doesn't last long!
Get rid of the negative thoughts, and rephrase:
Take it in a positive manner, and remain strong.

I'm a tween who'd be a teen in six months
I can feel my mind playing a lot of stunts!

I can see a lot of change in my selection of hobbies
It may be due to my ever-changing mood swings!

I started valuing friendships more
Whereas my parents say I should concentrate on my studies much more!

Adults say I should be more responsible
When all I want is to become invincible!

I feel like I need to start thinking of my career
Something which I like and will always adhere.

Overall, I like my age
Though I know it is a passing stage.

Finally,
The best time of my life has arrived!
It's time to enjoy to the fullest,
As it's the cherished and unforgettable phase in everyone's life.

Time to work on my hobbies and enjoy with friends and food!
It's also the time to study hard
And think of my career,
But all with fun, seriousness, swag and trends!

The perfect time
To learn lessons of life and know what to do ahead.
I don't want to misuse this time
As doing so, wouldn't be a work of intelligence but vice-versa instead!

Oh, what do I know about being a teen?
Some say its happiness and despair but you're stuck in between.
I'm just a tween and life hasn't taken me down,
But I just hope that I won't drown.
Teenage years are the best for some,
But others have experienced pain like none.
It's scary in the huge world out there, what do I even know,
Teen or tween: I've no idea where the wind blows.
All I can do is hope for the best and persevere,
Do the best I can, wishing that the rest is clear!

Tweens and teens
Are like a train that goes running in every house!
Sometimes when I think about it, I feel
How funny it is when
Tweens try to become teens
Whilst teens want to become kids again and live that life they'd wasted as tweens!
A teen's life is a roller coaster as deep down they know they'll have to face difficulties and get responsibilities.
That tiny, eager tween doesn't want to understand, yet wants to grow up so soon and face it all in one day!
isn't thinking about it so burdening?
Well, I don't have to worry
'cause I've already a lesson learned!

The clock just struck twelve,
Yay! It's time to celebrate:
I'm a teen.
A lot of happiness and luck it'll bring,
It seems!

Time to break rules made,
Time to learn from our mistakes.
The 'teen' feeling is by my side
Making me love the night.
I promise I'll learn from my life
And fight out all problems and make them right!

I'm a teen,
Who's addicted to the screen,
But due to quarantine,
I've become unseen!
I'm the opposite of disciplined,
And my room is unclean
I try to determine the things I like,
But deep down I know what I want within.

Oh! What fun it is to jump and play,
Riding bicycles along the way.
All of us with hundreds of routines,
As we become tweens or teens.
Studies, responsibilities and mood swings,
Feeling lovely as the cuckoo sings,
Our different tastes in different things,
Some of us like summers while some like springs.

We have poetry, arts and projects to make,
We think about which careers to take.
These unforgettable and fun-filled days,
Trying new things in our own ways.
That's how we people live,
Relate this to yourself,
And think, will you survive?

TWEENS AND TEENS

Tweens are still like infants,

Teens are still like toddlers.

Tweens prefer spending time with parents,

Teens start biasing towards friends.

Tweens still want to stay under parent's shadow,

But teens prefer to make their own path.

Tweens prefer to hear stories,

But teens like to read stories.

Tween or a teen, life's always fun!
