"Need of the Hour"

'He is called a man of culture, who can meet calamities with unshaken faith in his own ideals, who in joys and sorrows, in successes and failures, can live up to his ideals, unruffled. Let us discipline all our physical contacts. Let us regulate our emotional transactions. Let us systematize our intellectual evaluation of things and beings, of circumstances and happenings – the means and the end. This is true education. We are striving for total cultural uplift of our community. Coordinated and disciplined activity undertaken in a chorus of devotion to our sacred culture is the prime need of the hour.'

Pujya Gurudev Swami Chinmayanandaji's Vision

CIRS Philosophy

An individual differs from others due to his vision of life which includes his values and ideals. To develop the right vision in our children, is to create a generation of truly educated, refined and noble citizens, equipped and inspired to serve the world in various capacities, thereby fulfilling their lives.

The purpose of education is the overall unfolding and gentle blossoming of the child at the physical, emotional, intellectual and spiritual levels of his/her personality.

True education complements academic excellence with character and personality development. CIRS makes an earnest attempt to provide the best environment where the student can unfold within and shine without. In a nutshell, we shape children with socially acceptable norms and by doing so, we make them the torch bearers of our value system.

Param Pujya Gurudev Swami Chinmayanandaji

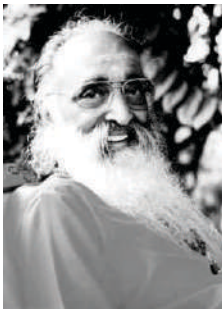

Our Founder

Message

Never before in our national history did the best minds of India move out in such spectacular numbers to serve communities in distant foreign lands, living amidst unusual climates, strange food habits, peculiar social customs and confusing cultural environments. Everywhere, young Indians are scoring success with their performances in science and technology, commerce and art. We salute them for all their excellence and wish them even greater success in their professions.

Those who have gone abroad with their families try to amalgamate their Indian way of life with the lifestyle of their adopted countries. At times, such attempts create pressures and conflicts over moral values and cultural patterns. The children see one thing at home and meet contradictory situations outside the home. Because of this bi-cultural experience, they run the risk of picking up attitudes potentially dangerous and sometimes suicidal to their future happiness and success.

I am glad my suggestions are now fully accepted both in India and abroad. CIRS will provide an environment that will help integrate the best of each culture. It will be a cultural home away from home for our growing children.

Send us your children. Let them have one to six years of cultural adventure during their 11-18 years of age. Let us give them a chance to understand and absorb Indian culture and heritage and return to the countries from which they come to us, to continue their studies. Let us build up sufficient knowledge and taste in them to feel a sense of pride and belongingness to our Indian heritage.

I wish you all success.

Hari Om.

Message

The purpose of education is manifold. Literacy and employment are its primary aims. Another purpose is to make students capable of living their lives fully at all levels of their personalities. They should be able to face the numerous challenges of life and carve out a purposeful future for themselves. At yet another level, the purpose of education is to groom students in noble cultural values. In the absence of this culture, knowledge itself and material prosperity can become a weapon of destruction instead of a means of blessing to humanity. Higher still than this aim is to create a thirst for greater knowledge in students, so that they discover the mysteries of nature and the world around them.

The Chinmaya International Residential School at Coimbatore imparts education to students from India and abroad. Keeping all the aforesaid in view, children get modern education in an atmosphere of rich Indian culture.

Pujya Gurudev Swami Chinmayananda had laid the foundation of this school in Coimbatore a few years ago. He attained Mahasamadhi in August 1993. To realize his cherished dream of this school is now the sacred duty of us all - his disciples, devotees, followers and admirers. Let us come together and pay our respectful homage to Him in making the Chinmaya International Residential School a reality. May He shower His grace and blessings on us to make this project a great success.

In the service of the Lord,
Swami Tejomayananda

Our Chairman Message

“Determined to be Responsible”

“With great power comes great responsibility”, goes the famous adage.

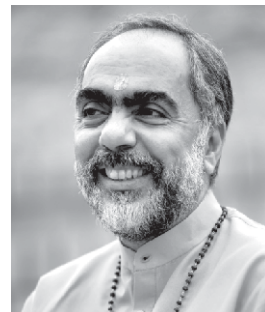

Nature created us with abundant potential within, and endless possibilities outside, probably lying lifeless at the moment, only waiting to be tapped into manifestation. Our nation expects of us, its citizens, our best. Mother nature demands of us, her children, our deepest sensitivity.

As students and staff of CIRS, let us be ‘Determined to be Responsible’, making right choices that would impact our personal evolution, advance our nation’s prosperity and serve the cause of the world’s well-being.

Fulfilling this lofty vision was Pujya Gurudev Swami Chinmayanandaji’s dream for CIRS. We shall manifest it. We Can! We Must!

Message

“Determined to be Responsible”

We belong to the generation that is spoilt with choices. Multitudinous variety of food, fashion, entertainment, travel, living space, education, career and gadgets baffle our minds. Either hopelessly stupefied or immensely shocked, we become ill-equipped to make the right decisions. As a society, in spite of such voluminous variety, we still feel insecure and unfulfilled. Many a time, our own choices havoc disaster upon us.

To make responsible choices is the only way to the redemption of life – both personal and social. To make right choices calls for a distinct clarity in vision, an inspirational purpose, immense level of courage, unbending strength of character, abundant gentleness of heart and unending enthusiasm.

It was Pujya Gurudev Swami Chinmayanandaji’s vision for CIRS to create such heroes of tomorrow, who will be ‘Determined to be Responsible’ and have all these qualities imbedded in them.

I wish the entire CIRS family all success in their endeavour to fulfil this noble vision.

Hari Om!

Salutations to you, O Motherland !

You are the land of abundance: abundance of water, abundance of food, abundance of naturally beautiful breeze from the mountain.

The land cooled by the dark green of the crops and foliage

That land whose dark nights are lit by the serene glow of the moon

The land that is adorned by the fragrance of flowers and the lotus

You are the land of smiling faces, the land of pleasant voices, showering your people with joy and blessings!

Salutations to you, O Motherland!

Leave, Visiting and Outing

Ours is a fully residential school and our calendar includes a number of child centered activities. Every time a child leaves the school, he/she is missing out on an opportunity to learn and have fun. Children whose parents/guardians cannot visit them feel left out when they see their friends go for an outing often. The frequent and unscheduled outings also make it difficult for us to plan suitable activities.

The following rules are designed to help you to help us :

- a. The school shall allow leave only for the marriage of a sibling of the student, only for a maximum of 3 days.
- b. Students are allowed to go out with parents/guardians only twice a year after the Parents' Meet and Sports' Meet; permission shall not be granted for any other occasion.
- c. Students shall be allowed for visit /outing only with persons as specified in the list in the following page.
- d. Students are allowed to go for the Sunday outing after breakfast at 9:00am and must return to the campus before 7:30pm.
- e. Guardians other than parents must carry an authorization in writing in the prescribed form on page 36, from the parents to meet and/or take the child out. The authorized person is totally responsible for student's behaviour outside the CIRS campus on these days.

- f. First default for late return shall result in an automatic disallowance of the next outing; second default shall mean no outing for the remaining term.
- g. Students should not bring any parcel / packet while returning after an outing.
- h. The school reserves the right to deny permission to any student going with a guardian / another parent if the school finds that the child is not sufficiently taken care of by the guardian / another parent.

Policies regarding parcels from Parents / Guardian

- a. Parents are requested to seek permission from the school authority before sending any parcel/package either by post/courier or through any visitor.
- b. Parents are requested not to bring any parcel/package to the campus before any outing.

Policies regarding late reporting after vacation

Late reporting to the School after the vacations makes the student miss the requisite introductory and revision time and the child set back from day one. Additionally, it creates problems for the teachers as the child has to be tutored separately in an effort towards making up for the academic loss.

The School Calendar gives, well in advance, the date of reopening of the school after the vacations to facilitate travel bookings. Therefore it is imperative that every student reports to the school on time after the vacation. Else,

- a. For the first misdemeanour, the child shall be charged a fresh admission fee.
- b. if the offence is repeated, the child will not be allowed to attend school and will be sent home.

1. Smoking/consumption of alcohol in any form/use of tobacco in any form/use of drugs/non-veg food/mobile phone/ viewing objectionable materials is strictly prohibited inside the school campus and when on an official visit/ trip on behalf of the school. Anybody found violating this rule will be expelled without notice.
2. School does not allow any inappropriate and unhealthy relationship/behaviour between opposite genders. Any violation of such rules will lead to strict disciplinary action/expulsion.
3. A student found guilty of using unfair means / malpractice / cheating of any kind in any assignment / examination / test will be dealt with very firmly and shall face severe consequences.
4. A student found guilty of any serious breach of discipline will be summarily expelled from the school without any liability on the part of the institution. The school will in no way be liable to return any part of the fee paid by the student.
